

Firefighters, others seek injunction to block wage cut

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Mayor Paul Schuler's expectation that Granite City employees would be willing to accept rollbacks of their wages to the April 30, 1981, level appears to have been in error.

Petitions were filed in Madison County Circuit Court Thursday and Friday asking for court injunctions to prohibit the city from reducing the July 15 paychecks to the April 30 salary levels for city firefighters, Teamsters, police and clerks.

A hearing on those petitions is set before Associate Judge John Day in Alton at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the city's financial woes are continuing to mount, even before actions to aid the cash flow go into effect, sources indicated Friday. The city predicted that with salary rollbacks, cuts in some departments and borrowing totaling up to $1 million, it would be possible to keep operating until late August or early September, when new taxes arrive.

Friday, county officials predicted that the tax bills will not be prepared until Sept. 1 and the first payments of taxes are not likely to be received until late September or early October.

Hundreds of bills remain unpaid by the city, officials confirmed, and some of the bills are creating headaches.

There was fear Friday in some departments that Mobil Oil Co., which has the contract to supply the city with gasoline, would not serve the city any longer, unless past due bills for gasoline were paid. The supplier agreed Thursday afternoon to continue to fill the tanks, after being assured that the bill would be paid by July 31.

At the police department, Dave Nolan, administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler, ordered Friday that only police, fire and ambulance service vehicles be fueled.

The threatened shortage of gasoline threatened to bring street department vehicles to a literal halt, according to Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell, who said that when he called the supplier in Edwardsville, he was told by a secretary that orders for the city could not be filled, until a problem was worked out.

"We are running on the fumes. Some rigs are just about out of diesel fuel now. Then, we park them, I guess," Portell said. Then, a Mobil truck pulled up and filled the department's tanks.

"It's a good thing," Portell said, noting that his department, meanwhile, is involved in two major new repair operations. The lift station at Nameoki School was struck by lightning during a severe storm Friday morning and all of Proposed city zoning law requires fees, inspections

The Granite City Council recently tabled a model ordinance calling for inspections and issuance of occupancy permits before premises can be occupied by new residents. Public response to the arbitrary nature of the "yes or no" power of the inspector and to the fees involved were among the items in that proposal which drew the loudest criticism.

Now, the city is considering a new zoning ordinance which calls for appointing "a zoning administrator," paying fees, obtaining permits and other provisions before any property can be developed or improved.

A public hearing is planned for 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 14, on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance, which contains the above provisions, along with a revamp of the city's outdated zoning categories and zoning map.

According to the document, which is to be presented to the city council in the near future, no lots in the city can be divided, no land developed or no new use can be created or structure built unless the person wishing to make the change obtains a "certificate of zoning compliance" from a person who is to be named as "the city's zoning administrator."

Applicants for certificates of zoning compliance must list 12 things, including lot size, building dimensions, setback measurements, parking information, location of utilities, nature of the proposed use and "any other pertinent information that the administrator may require, according to the document."

Building permits may only be issued by the city to persons showing a valid certificate of zoning compliance. If the zoning administrator feels that repair of construction work is required, he is to issue an "initial certificate of zoning compliance" for the work. The initial certificate would be valid for one year and may be revoked for failure to abide by "a corrective action order," the proposed zoning ordinance states.

Final certificates of zoning compliance may only be issued after the administrator has personally inspected the property and there are penalties for failure to obtain a final certificate, according to the ordinance proposal.

If the zoning administrator feels any property is in violation of the zoning ordinance, he may order remedial action and set a date by which the violation must be corrected. Failure to comply can result in revocation of the certificate of zoning compliance for that property and may result in the imposition of fines.

The proposed ordinance also authorizes the zoning administrator to issue corrective action orders if he sees work is being done in violation of an initial certificate of zoning compliance. The ordinance does not set specific fees for inspections or for certificates of zoning compliance, but carries the stipulation, "The city council, by resolution, shall establish fees relating to the administration of this ordinance. Said fees are to be posted in the city hall by the city clerk."

Current nonconforming uses of structures, allowed under a "grandfather clause" which does not allow the city to interfere with business which was in existence before the city's

No raises for Venice city workers in budget

Because of financial problems that have beset the city for the last year, Venice is proposing a new tentative budget of $1,301,386, an increase of only $28,275 over that of last year.

The new tentative budget which has been posted for public inspection contains no raises in the salaries of city employees including the police department and is mostly identical in content to last year's 1980-81 budget bill.

Venice officials have set a public hearing on the budget at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 14, prior to the regular council meeting. At the same time a public hearing will be held on the city federal revenue sharing budget.

That budget has been estimated at $189,536 of which Venice proposes to use $116,536 for police department salaries. The remainder will include $15,000 for ambulance service, and another $15,000 for senior citizens and ARP. A total of $10,000 is set in the revenue sharing budget for city building repairs.

The revenue sharing budget also includes $2,500 for emergency services of the city's civil defense unit, $5,000 for street department labor and $500 in administrative costs.

The city operational budget placed on public post sets up $216,813 for street and alley purposes, including $50,000 for new truck purchases. That appropriation includes $39,493 for street department labor, the same as last year, and another $26,000 for extra labor costs.

The street superintendent's salary was left unchanged at $15,400.

For the police department, the new budget projects a total of $339,259 of which $281,929 is budgeted for salaries for the chief, three sergeants, one corporal and 19 patrolmen. The remaining $57,600 is for supplies and expenses of the police department, including $15,000 for new autos and $20,500 for fuel, oil and tires.

A total of $90,000 is budgeted for fees, salaries and expenses of city officers. This phase of the budget includes $16,492 as salary for the city comptroller, $19,200 for aldermen's expenses and $10,240 for the salary of the mayor's secretary.

For the fire department, the budget sets expenditures at $84,645, leaving all

Seek better tax timing

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
(Last article of an 11-part series)

How to "win friends and influence people" in three ways is the tightrope-walking task that faces James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments.

1. Some mechanism must be found to speed up the assessment and taxation process so that governmental agencies can reduce the borrowing that they do to meet operating costs.

Aided by new state legislation, a speed-up may be accomplished, not in time for the summer 1981 collection, but perhaps by the 1982 collection.

2. Barton also must help provide a tax base big enough to meet local governments' revenue needs. This is essential, not only because it is important that the agencies function effectively, but also to keep on good terms with the elected officials who appoint—and confirm the appointment of—assessment officers.

3. And he must keep taxpayers as happy as possible, in order to limit their dissatisfaction with government. This is best accomplished—to the degree he can achieve it—by holding assessments to a reasonable level and by assuring uniformity in the way property valuations are determined.

To help make governmental financial ends meet without excessive taxation of any one individual or family or company, Barton seeks to keep the whole property tax process viable through remedial steps when needed, including legislation.

For example, in the 1970s, Barton played an active role in encouraging what he considered responsible Springfield action while the General Assembly was endeavoring to modernize farm assessments.

One potential provision that he succeeded in altering would have exempted homes situated on farmland. Entire subdivisions of tax-free homes might have been developed in agricultural areas, he feared, if such a big taxation loophole had been created. The result would have been an excessive burden on the non-farm tax base.

Farm taxation again was the subject of legislation in the 1981 General Assembly session that ended June 30. Lawmakers approved a new formula for assessing farmland, based mainly on productivity rather than the market value of farmland.

Barton had a "lower profile" during

GC woman killed

Mrs. Norma J. (Tedder) Hand, 55, a lifelong resident of Granite City, was fatally injured in an accident Thursday, July 9, while vacationing in Sarasota, Fla., and was pronounced dead upon arrival at Memorial Hospital in Sarasota at 11:59 p.m.

Mrs. Hand and her sister, Mrs. Nadine Quentz of Cape Girardeau, were visiting a friend Mrs. Jean Boren, 55, formerly of Cape Girardeau. They had planned to vacation there for two weeks and had arrived in Sarasota by plane an hour prior to the accident.

Mrs. Boren is a second cousin to Mrs. Nancy Weiss-Hayes of Caseyville, formerly of Granite City.

According to authorities, Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Boren were walking along a busy street when an auto driving at a high rate of speed went out of control and struck both women. They both were taken to the Sarasota hospital where both were pronounced dead upon arrival.

Mrs. Hand graduated from Granite City High School in 1943 and from Missouri Baptist Hospital School of Nursing in 1946. She later received a B.A. Degree in Nursing through Eastern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She worked at St. Elizabeth Medical

Illinois Bell to combine offices

To help hold the line on the cost of providing service and to operate more efficiently, Illinois Bell will consolidate a total of ten Residence Service Centers in the last two months of 1981 and first two months of 1982. Six offices were consolidated earlier this year.

The Granite City record office will be combined with the East St. Louis office in January, local manager Ken Evers announced Friday.

The PhoneCenter Store and customer payment operation will remain open at 2 Crossroads Plaza, Granite City.

"The way our 22,000 Granite City customers do business with us will really not change," Evers said. "They can continue to save money by picking up their telephone sets in person at the PhoneCenter Store here. They can also exchange a defective set for a free replacement here and return sets for a credit when they move."

For customers who do business with Illinois Bell over the phone there will be a new phone number which will be given to them at the time of consolidation. The call will still be a free one. "We fully expect to be able to provide better customer service with the combined record centers," Evers said. "The larger work group will provide greater flexibility during peak business hours, lunch hours and vacation periods."

Evers noted that Illinois Bell has been concerned in announcing the office consolidations about the impact on employees in affected offices.

"Employees are the company's most valuable resource and Illinois Bell wants to keep them. Prior to each consolidation, each employee will discuss options with supervisors that best serve both employee and company needs. Every effort will be made to minimize personal disruptions."

"I think it's a smooth transition a team of employees from the two offices involved in each consolidation will review and recommend procedures for the combined offices to maintain orderly work flow and service to customers during the move."

O'Neal resigns as lieutenant-governor; leaves office Aug. 1

Lt. Governor Dave O'Neal, Thursday announced he will resign from office Aug. 1.

During a news conference in his hometown of Belleville, O'Neal stated he was considering several offers from private business, and expects to accept one of the offers soon.

"It was in 1970 I began my tenure in public service, by being elected sheriff of St. Clair County. Then in 1978 I was elected Lieutenant Governor on the ticket with Jim Thompson. I was re-elected in 1978. I've enjoyed my 11 years in public service."

"I feel that I have met the challenges the office of Lieutenant Governor now offers. It is a confining job. I have offered to Governor Thompson my recommendations for changing and expanding the functions of the office."

"Rather than accepting a salary for a job that needs to be restructured in order to be viable, and because of family preference, I have decided to resign as Lieutenant Governor, effective August 1, 1981."

The Illinois Constitution includes no provision for replacing a lieutenant governor who leaves office before his term expires. The programs and projects handled by the lieutenant governor's office are expected to be taken over by other government departments.

The lieutenant governor's duties currently include chairmanships of the Illinois Council on Coal Development, the Illinois Abandoned Mined Lands Reclamation Council, the operation of two Senior Action Centers, and sponsorship of the Senior Legislative Forum.

O'Neal's term expires in January, 1983.

CREWS LIQUOR IT'S STILL QUICKER!

The Illinois Department of Registration and Education is moving to make it unlawful for a funeral director or embalmer to make false or misleading statements about the laws concerning the disposal of human remains.

In addition, the Department intends to prevent those in the funeral profession from dispensing the sale of less expensive funeral merchandise or services and from suggesting that a customer's concern for price is improper.

Those are among the elements incorporated in proposed new rules for the administration of the Illinois Funeral Directing and Embalming Act.

The proposed new rules will be the subject of two public hearings. The first hearing is scheduled for 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 15, in the offices of the Department at 55 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Illinois 60604. The second is slated for 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 29, in the offices on the 3rd floor at 380 W. Washington St., Springfield, Illinois 62786.

Those who can not attend a public hearing or prefer to submit written comments and viewpoints may do so. The deadline is Aug. 24.

SIUE police move to curb thefts from cars

A rash of motor vehicle-related thefts at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has prompted University Police to step up patrols and to offer crime prevention tips for motorists, according to Chief Charles R. McDonald.

McDonald said two stolen vehicles and 10 thefts from automobiles were reported during the month of June, with total losses estimated at nearly $6,000.

Most of the thefts from vehicles were wire spoke wheel covers, with values ranging from $150 to $400 per set of four. Chief McDonald said. Nine such incidents were reported in June with seven of them occurring during the last two weeks of the month. Student parking lots 6 and 13 were the primary targets.

Vehicles stolen were a 1968 Ford Mustang, valued at $2,500, and a 1977 Kawasaki motorcycle with a value of $1,000. Both were parked at Tower Lake Apartments.

Chief McDonald said police officers will have an information table in the University Center on July 9, 16 and 23, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each day, to offer crime prevention tips.

The information provided will include demonstrations of using an electric engraver to place personal identification on wheel covers, car stereo units and speakers, batteries and other items found in vehicles.

Tax timing

the latest legislative session but nevertheless took an active interest in the Springfield deliberations. His chief critics are farmers who are unhappy with their assessments and have formed an Eastern Madison County Organizing Committee.

Another key item of state legislation enacted this spring and summer is aimed at ending delays in the compilation and mailing of annual real estate tax bills.

Effective next year, the bill provides for township assessors to use duplicate tax books from the previous year on which to base their new valuations, instead of waiting for county assessment protest hearings to be completed.

This may enable the assessors to start work in January and complete their assessments by mid-April, sponsors of the legislation believe. The sponsors include State Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City.

Such a speed-up could set the stage for county hearings to begin by June. Final figures then would be established once the protests had been heard and acted upon, with both sets of books made identical.

Instead of county-level assessment tasks lasting from about October to June, it is hoped to advance this to June-January or June-February timing. Computations, billing and collection then could take place in the spring instead of the late summer or early fall.

Cities and their fiscal years in April, and school districts finish their years in June. The earlier they can receive new taxes, the less necessity they will have for anticipating the following year's taxes to meet year-end costs.

The less borrowing they have to do, the more they can avoid paying interest costs—a saving for taxpayers.

The Finance Committee of the Madison County Board also has been considering allowing initial property tax billings to be done through a "partial payment" method.

Tax bills would be based on previous assessments, and would then be updated when the current year's assessments have been entered and adjusted.

Another way of completing assessment hearings faster would be to have more persons conducting the hearings. State's Attorney Donald Weber has suggested that the three-member Board of Review be increased to six members.

Robert Harris of Granite City is the review board chairman and its members are Fred Finck of Godfrey and Terry Francis of Glen Carbon. The latter is serving on an extension of his latest two-year appointment, pending a decision on whether to choose a new member or reappoint him.

Harris and Francis are Democrats and Finck is a Republican.

A Democrat, who later took another job, and Republican Carl Cain of Bethalto became qualified for possible service on the assessment review panel early this year.

If Francis is replaced, his successor will have to be a Democrat, since that party by its majority status is entitled to two of the three seats.

Four more Madison County residents were certified as eligible for appointment to the Board of Review after passing a state examination June 30. The test was administered by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Those passing were Mrs. Shirley Voegel of Granite City, John E. Schuck of Marine and James Whitt of Edwardsville, all Democrats, and Roger O. Schubert of Alton, Schubert voted Republican in the last primary election after casting Democratic ballots in earlier primaries.

Review board appointments are made by County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and ratified by the County Board.

Review board has not decided whether to double the size of the review board. If this is done, an emergency need—the urgency of prompt tax collections—would be a factor.

Decisions related to the Board of Review may be disclosed at the next County Board meeting on Wednesday, July 15.

Multi-office banks legal after Jan. 1

Gov. James R. Thompson has signed into law legislation authorizing multi-office banking in Illinois through bank holding companies and community service facilities effective Jan. 1, 1982.

The legislation, SB 578, sponsored by Sen. Roger Keats, Kenilworth, and Rep. James McPike, Alton, divides the state into five banking regions. Under the new law, bank holding companies can acquire additional banks in the holding company's home region or in any one contiguous banking region.

The new law also permits a bank to establish one community service facility in the county where the bank is located or outside the county as long as it is within 10 miles of the home bank.

The person cashed two travelers' checks, two personal checks and a payroll check, all payable to a Granite City woman. The checks totaled $500 and $100 of that amount was deposited in her account.

She had reported her purse was stolen somewhere in Missouri when she was on a float trip recently. It contained the checks and her identification.

The cashier who handled the transaction at Colonial Bank did not recall the customer who used the checks.

HELD IN JAIL

Denny L. Stamps, 19, of 2624 Stratford Lane, was being held Saturday in the Granite City jail pending the posting of $202 cash bond. Stamps was charged at 12:05 a.m. Saturday with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest in a disturbance outside the Parkside Confectionary, 3203 Maryville Road. Stamps allegedly refused to stop yelling obscene words at police and tried to run from them but was caught behind the confectionary.

Champaign-Urbana was hired as a consultant to review the county tax system and make recommendations to speed billing and tax collection. Smith said it appears that no one official is in charge of assessments, billing and collecting taxes, which has led to the present situation and Breise may be able to make suggestions to avoid the confusion in future years.

THEFT AT TAVERN

Paul E. Travis, 45, of 2117 Dewey Ave., is being held pending the posting of $102 bond under a charge of theft. Travis while in the El Gato tavern, 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, allegedly went through a woman's purse, while she was in the restroom, and then allegedly took $50. Police found $5 and some personal papers belonging to the woman outside the building.

Tax bills may not be ready until Sept. 1

As if Quad-City area taxing bodies are not already scraping the bottom of the barrel, to get by before new tax monies are received, township officials in Edwardsville Thursday were told that this year will not be available for mailing until Sept. 1, much later than normal. Taxing bodies then will not receive the bulk of their taxes until October or later, it was indicated.

According to law, township tax collectors must complete their collections and turn their books over to the county collector by Sept. 1, so the effect of the very late bills this year will be to take the tax collecting job away from the township collectors.

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith, County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus and other county officials told a group of township officials from Granite City, Chouteau Township, Edwardsville Township and others, Thursday that the county still is checking the tentative assessment multipliers it has been given and cannot begin preparation of the tax bills until the multipliers have been verified and the various exemptions applied.

Henkhaus estimated that it will be Sept. 1 before the bills are available and it is likely to be the middle of September or early October before tax distributions begin. Saying that the tax system "has broken down," Smith said the billing is five weeks behind schedule and may be seven weeks behind next year, if something is not done.

Henkhaus said that the township collectors will not

Warning on checking account number fraud

"Do not give your checking account number or savings account number to anyone," is the advice Granite City police are giving local residents, particularly elderly widows, due to recent attempts by a couple to obtain checking account numbers by phone.

Two cases have been brought to the attention of police in which a young woman has called elderly widows, said she was calling from the bank and contending there was some problem with the widows' checking accounts. In each case, she conferred with a man while talking to the widow, and then asked for the checking account number.

Forgers can use the name and checking account number to assist them in cashing a stolen or forged check, police warned.

Banks already know the checking account numbers of their customers and would have no reason to call the customer to ask for his or her checking account numbers, officers said.

Anyone receiving such a telephone call should hang up and immediately call the Granite City police at 877-6111 or the detective division at 876-9027, it was suggested.

Fire damages home

An estimated $10,000 damage was done to the structure and $6,000 to the contents at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude (Patricia) Swift, 1745 Courtney Blvd.

According to a spokesman for the Madison County Sheriff's department, arson is suspected. However, at this time they do not believe there is any connection to the Monday, July 6, fire at 1709 Courtney Blvd., where an 8-year-old girl was burned.

Granite City firemen responded to the alarm at 9:30 p.m. and then called the Long Lake fire department. Long Lake Fire Chief Lee Adams said they responded with one pumper, the emergency truck and their arson investigation truck.

Work begins on steel plant expansion program at Madison

By MICK STRANGE of the Press-Record
The Southwest Steel Supply Co. began its $4 million expansion program last week in the Stephen Maera Industrial Park at Madison.

"The Leo Wolf Co. did such a fine job on our first building we are having him build our 30,000 square feet addition," according to Stephen A. Green, vice president of the steel fabricating firm, told the Press-Record Friday.

"This will give us 75,000 square feet, as our first building is 45,000 square feet," Green said.

Green noted that the new $4 million expansion will add to the company's steel processing by adding a custom cut-to-length line. The company's present slitter allows them to cut the steel coils to precise widths and the new equipment will allow custom length cutting.

The combination of length and width will allow Southwest Steel to better serve their present customers and attract new business, according to the steel executive.

Green said that the firm is purchasing computerized Pro-Form equipment for the new line which will give identical quality to the slitting line.

According to Green this is known in the steel business as "state-of-art," or the newest and finest in customized work.

Green said that tentative plans call for the building to be finished in November 1981 and the new equipment to be installed and in operation by the "third quarter of 1982."

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the original $2 million facility in the Maera Industrial Park was held on Monday, April 25, 1977.

This is phase two and, according to Green, the company may expand it's operation even further at their Madison location.

'We need a doctor' theme of 1981 physicians fair

Several dozen Illinois communities will have the opportunity this fall to collectively hang their "we need a doctor" signs at the third annual doctor's fair in Springfield, Ill.

Towns are expected to continue their use of audiovisual presentations, brochures, foodstuffs and souvenirs as part of their effort. Fairs have been held at the School the last two years in September.

The fair is being held again because of continuing requests from community leaders for a convenient and concentrated opportunity to speak with physicians who would consider practicing in downstate Illinois. The School of Medicine, through its Practice Opportunity Program, currently is working with over 150 Illinois communities, has held planning and consulting meetings in 90 of them and last year published a directory of towns seeking physicians.

"The fair has become a regular part of our ongoing effort to produce, recruit and retain physicians for central and southern Illinois," says SIU Dean Richard H. Moy, M.D. "With such positive response the last two years from both the towns and the over 200 students and residents who attended, it is obvious that the fairs need to continue."

Illinois communities interested in participating who have not been contacted by the School may call John F. Record, Division of Community Medicine, 217-782-3770.

GETTING A HEAD START. Sheila Crews and Natalie Buster of Granite City are two of the area college freshmen participating in the New Student Life Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this summer. Miss Crews plans to major in social work when she enters the University this fall, while Miss Buster has chosen physical education as her career field. Along with 60-70 other freshmen, the two girls recently spent two days on the University campus, getting acquainted with college life. Approximately 20 sessions have been scheduled for the summer.

Freshmen exploring SIUE campus

Although the new quarter won't officially get under way at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville until the latter part of September, the campus is already bustling with the excitement of new freshmen exploring its facilities.

Armed with luggage necessary for a two-day stay, bedding and food money, the students are arriving at intervals all summer long to participate in the New Student Life Program.

Shortly after arrival, the students are whisked away on an extensive tour of the campus, learning more about the place which will be second home to many of them for the next four years.

James Rotter, admissions counselor, admits that the visits are not all "fun and games." During informal workshops, the students learn about academic and student services, housing, student financial assistance, counseling and testing, employment possibilities, faculty expectations and other topics of paramount interest to the entering students.

They also receive academic advisement. And, when all the touring and learning activities are done, there are the campus recreational facilities to enjoy—Tower Lake beach, boating, swimming, tennis, and bowling.

But, best of all, there is the opportunity for advanced registration, so that when they return in the fall, they have most of their "housekeeping" duties behind them and can "jump right into the swim of things."

In addition, friendships generated during the two-day stay provide the entering students with a peer network already in place when they return in September.

Approximately 20 New Student Life sessions have been scheduled for the summer, extending through July and August, with 60 to 70 students attending each session. Reservations for many of the sessions are still available for students planning to enter the University for the first time this fall.

University officials recommend that students attend both days, but, if it is impossible for a student to attend both days because of job or family responsibilities, they should plan to attend the second day of a particular session.

Individuals must be admitted to the University before they are eligible to participate in the New Student Life Program. Admissions information and reservations for any of the orientation sessions may be obtained by contacting the Office of Admissions and Records at 1-692-2720.

Fatalities on highways drop 125 in June

June traffic fatalities on Illinois highways decreased 12.6 percent when compared to figures for June 1980 according to provisional statistics released by the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police.

Provisional figures show 154 people died as a result of 136 accidents in June. This is a decrease from the 175 provisional fatality total for June 1980 and a decrease of 18.1 percent from the 188 provisional fatality total for June 1979. The provisional total of 869 fatalities for the six months of 1981 is a decrease of 0.9 percent from the 877 deaths for the same period of 1980, and an increase of 3.0 percent from the 844 deaths for the same period of 1979.

In all accidents there were 22 pedestrians killed in 21 accidents, eight bicyclists killed in eight accidents, four persons killed in three railroad crossing accidents, and 36 persons killed in 32 accidents involving motorcycles.

Burglars take food, liquor

Burglars stole food, orange juice, liquor, candy and cigars from Pete & Mary's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., during the night, it was discovered Thursday.

Wood was peeled from a door which had been nailed shut and entry was believed gained through that door. An interior brace then was removed to open the rear door of the tavern.

A case of orange juice and several large cans of food and a jar of olives were carried out the rear door. Several items were left outside the point of entry.

Taken from the bar area were three beer tap handles, five bottles of liquor and assorted candy and cigarettes.

Two windows in the men's restroom were broken and there was damage to plywood over a west side window, apparently from an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry there, according to police.

MEETING THURSDAY
The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an on-site public hearing at 9 a.m. Thursday at 311 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, where Leslie and Louvenia Patton are seeking a special use permit to place a mobile home for their resident. The property is in Venice Township and is zoned R-4 for residential use.

Patterson, Burton, Ford all-stars

HIGHLAND — Three Tri-City Triplets were named to the first team of District 22 All-Stars here Sunday night and fourth was named an alternate. Named to the team were infielder Danny Patterson, pitcher Keith Burton and outfielder Bob Ford. Randy Cann was named as an alternate. The District 22 all-stars will play a team of Missouri all-stars Friday night at 8:30 at Heine Meine Field in South St. Louis. The District

Cahokia protest is upheld

22 All-Star game will be played Tuesday, Aug. 4 at Marissa, also at 8:30 p.m. The selections were made last night at a meeting of District 22 managers and coaches here. In other action at the meeting, a four-man appeals committee voted to allow a protest by Cahokia in regard to a forfeit it was forced to make on a game that was scheduled for 6 p.m. on July 2 in Granite City. Tri-City manager Eldon Warfield, his team and the umpires waited well past the allowed time before the umpires ruled that Cahokia would have to forfeit the game because it had not shown up in time for the game. Tri-City's home games were originally scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Granite City South Field. But after all schedules had been made up, the local legion decided to move the starting time of all home games to 6 p.m. A letter was sent out to all managers of teams scheduled to play in Granite City of the change. Cahokia said it never received its letter and therefore filed the protest. All other managers said they received their letters and have so far shown up for their scheduled games on time. According to District 22 Baseball Chairman Wayne Wirz of Highland, no proof could be offered either way on the protest. "They (Cahokia) couldn't prove they didn't get it, but Eldon (Warfield) couldn't prove he sent it. I guess the committee just decided that the main objective of our Legion program is to PLAY baseball, so they've rescheduled that game." The game will be played this Thursday, at 8 p.m. at Cahokia instead of Granite City. According to Wirz, the field at Granite City South couldn't be scheduled for the game this week. Corral, McDonald's split two

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It was just plain hard to concentrate on baseball Sunday afternoon. The heat made life miserable for everyone at Wilson Park. But the Corral Liquor Cowboys and McDonald's went on with their games anyway, splitting a doubleheader. Corral won the first game, 6-5, before McDonald's came back strong in the second game to win, 11-5.

But that was only fair for two teams that spent over six hours on the hottest day of the year playing baseball, while most people enjoyed the comforts of lounge chairs and air-conditioning. By the way the first game started, one would have thought that the game was being played in the Astrodome. Both teams hustled their way to three early runs.

Pitcher Doug Rains got things rolling for Corral on a walk. He then went to second on a sharp single by first baseman Tom Greco. Both runners then advanced on a wild pitch by McDonald's starter Terry Page. Catcher Dave Hagenbrock then walked to load the bases, before Jeff Trettor lifted a deep fly ball to right field to score Rains. John Krekovich then walked to load the bases again, and Jeff Stamper singled home both Greco and Hagenbrock to give the Cowboys an early, 3-0 lead. But McDonald's came right back to tie the score in their first time at the plate. Third baseman Danny Schaus led off with a single, and went to second on a single by Rains. Shortstop Jeff Parker then singled to score Schaus, and went to second on another wild pitch. Bob Ford then doubled deep to left field to score both Page and Parker and knot the score at 3-3.

Both pitchers then settled down to complete scoreless second innings, but Corral scored a run in the third inning without a hit to take the lead. Greco was given first on a catcher's interference call on McDonald's Mike Linhart, and then stole second. He then stole third on a long fly out to right by Hagenbrock, and then scored on a ground out by Trettor. Corral led, 4-3.

McDonald's then matched the Cowboys in their fourth inning. Ford singled to center, and went to third on a single by second baseman Bob Stegemeier. He then scored on a fielder's choice by Al Vount, and the score was tied for another inning. In the fifth inning, Rains got things rolling for Corral once again with a solid single to center. Greco then

Greenville, Triplets divide DH

By TERRY MACKIN
of the Press-Record
GREENVILLE — Practice games are played in order to give rusty arms a chance to loosen up and to iron out nagging wrinkles that follow a team throughout the season. And that is exactly what the Tri-City Triplets accomplished here Saturday in a doubleheader split with Greenville. The Triplets lost the first game 8-2, before coming back strong in the second behind the pitching of Eldon Warfield to defeat the hosts, 9-7.

The pitching of Eldon Warfield? Since the game was a practice game, the Tri-City manager did not want to waste any of his pitchers. And since the Greenville club consisted mainly of college-age players, Warfield decided to pitch himself instead of risking injury to any of his players.

"I haven't pitched in awhile, but I keep my arm in good shape just in case anybody ever calls I just couldn't see wasting anybody today with the important league games coming up," Warfield said. The Triplets play at Freeburg Monday, and at South Division leading Alton Tuesday. They then play a non-league doubleheader at Centralia Wednesday.

"We're going to need all of the pitching we can get." But even a strong relief job by Warfield could not save the Triplets from the fastballs of Greenville's Glenn Hobbie in the first game. Hobbie struck out ten Triplets and allowed only two runs in registering a 6-2 victory for Greenville.

And from the beginning of the first game, it appeared that the Triplets could be in for a very long day.

Greenville scored three runs in the first inning off Triplets starter Jerry Fenton to take an early lead. Centerfielder Jerry Hood led off the game with a single, and then Tom Maril singled to put runners on first and third. Maril then stole second. After Hobbie grounded out, Alan Schneider then singled to score both Hood and Maril. First baseman Mark White then tripled, scoring Schneider and giving the Triplets a 3-0 lead.

The Triplets scored a solo run in the second inning when Rick Daily, who enjoyed a 6 for seven day at the plate, singled home Warfield who had walked. The Triplets scored another run in the sixth inning, but that was the only threat they posed on the burly Hobbie the entire game.

But the second game was entirely different.

After getting off to another shaky start behind the pitching of Paul Eads and a shaky defense, Greenville scored two runs in the first inning. Hood walked, and shortstop Kenny Trager sacrificed him to second. Brian Martie then singled him home on a shot to left field. He then stole second, and was handed third on a wild pitch by Eads, and later scored on an infield single by Kendall Snyder. Greenville led 2-0.

Then, after pitching five innings in the first game, Manager Warfield entered the game in hope of taming the hot Greenville bats. "Eads was not pitching that bad, but I didn't want him pitching Wednesday after a bad outing. Confidence is very important this time of the year," Warfield said.

And after a shaky second inning, when Greenville scored four runs on two Triplets errors, Warfield settled down and brought back memories of his Legion days in gaining the Triplets win.

"Hey, don't forget I was the MVP at the state tournament and won two games there," Warfield said after the game, joking with his players.

And it was a strong fifth inning that brought the Triplets spirits back to life. Led by a bases-loaded triple by Daily, they scored five runs to give Warfield all of the support he needed. Singles by Coach Jeff Parker, who also got a chance to display his talents in the hot sun, Danny Patterson, and Warfield also contributed to the Triplets cause.

Tri-City then scored three more in the sixth inning. Bob Ford doubled, and scored on a single by Daily. After George Jarvis laid down a perfect bunt down the third base line, Warfield singled again for a RBI. Parker then singled to give the Triplets the lead, 9-7, which they kept.

And after the split, Warfield was pleased with the efforts of the Triplets.

Sedej, P-R first in national contest

DEKALB, Ill. — Press-Record photographer Ed Sedej won the first place award for Sports Photography in the National Press Photographers Student Clip Contest.

Sedej, who will also graduate from SIU-Edwardsville this August with a degree in journalism, won the award for his photo "The Low Road," which appeared in the May 16 edition of the Press-Record. It showed Granite City North hurdler Tim Rozycki in action, breaking a hurdle with his foot at a district track meet in Belleville.

The NPPA judging included daily, semi-weekly and weekly papers from the five states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois. The second place sports photo was by Bob Sedel of the Rockford, Ill. Register-Star. The third place sports photo was by Brad Clift of The Minnesota Daily in Minneapolis.

Sedej's winning photograph appears elsewhere in today's Press-Record Sports.

Cougars to Sports Fest

EDWARDSVILLE — Although the official start of the 1981 collegiate soccer season doesn't get underway until the first round of practices August 13, several of Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville's best, including assistant coach Rick Benben, will get an early start.

Benben, along with Cougar assistants, Ed Gettemeier, Tom Broark, Mike Twellman, Steve Gauvain, Dan O'Keefe and newcomer Chris Hundel, will head to Syracuse, New York, July 13, to compete in the United States Olympic Committee's National Sports Festival. The National Sports Festival, scheduled to begin competition July 23, is the third of its kind and is recognized as the first step towards the 1984 Olympic Games.

Benben, a goalkeeper for SIUE in 1972 and a key ingredient in the Cougars first National Collegiate Athletic Association championship, will serve as the coach of the Midwest Squad. Other USOC Festival coaches are Jay Miller (South team), Colin Lindores (West squad) and Nick Zlatar (Eastern region). Benben has been a member of the SIUE coaching staff since 1973, taking time out in 1976 to play for the Dallas Tornado of the North American Soccer League. The Cougars, all natives of St. Louis, will open the round-robin competition as members of the Midwest Team, July 24. Following the festival, USOC members, including soccer chairman, Walt Chyzowich, will select an all-star team that will represent the United States in international competition.

All-Stater signs

EDWARDSVILLE — For the third time this season, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Wrestling Coach Larry Kristoff has signed a prep all-stater to a national letter of intent with the Cougars. Philip Callahan, a native of Clinton, Iowa, posted a brilliant 30-0 record on his way to becoming the Iowa state high school champion.

The new Granite City Amateur Soccer Association is going full-speed ahead. The Granite City Amateur Soccer Association was formed recently when the two separate boys and girls groups—the Tri-City YMCA Soccer Association and the Madison County Girls Soccer Association merged.

The new Granite City Amateur Soccer Association has over 100 teams composed of over 1,600 boys and EDWARDSVILLE — Nine local teenage golfers have successfully made it through the opening round of the 13th annual Insurance Youth Golf Classic, sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois, Accredited Insurance & Management Service, Inc., and W. S. Meyer & Associates.

Devin Willie of Alhambra and Vicki Higginson of Collinsville led their respective fields at the Oak Brook Golf Course, both in the Metro East Tournament. Devin shot a one over par 72 while Vicki managed the course in 89. The local tournament was held June 13, 1981.

The Metro East qualifiers advance to the state finals July 28-29 at Rend Lake Golf Course in Sesser, Illinois. A total number of 33 youths participated in the Metro East Tournament.

Some 150 teenagers from state finals across the country will go on to the nationals at the Augusta Country Club and the Forest Hills Golf Course, both in Augusta, Ga., Aug. 7-11. The IYC is the only national competition in which teenagers are players.

Touring professionals who have played in the IYC include Tom Watson, Tom Kite, John Mahaffey, Forrest "Fuzzy" Zoeller, who played in the IYC as a youth, Eddie Pearce, the first junior IYC champion, Charley Coody, Lee Elder and many others.

In all IYC rounds, the teenage golfers' amateur standing is protected by strict observance of the rules of the U.S. Golf Association, the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The cutoff age for the young players is 17.

The youth golfers who reach the national tournament play 36 holes to cut the field to the low 66, who then play the last two rounds with 22 professionals from the PGA tour. In the four-day, 72-hole championship tournament, the youngsters compete for the coveted Robert Trent Jones Trophy, put into the competition several years ago as the perpetual trophy for the classic by the world-renowned golf course architect.

Each pro who plays with three different young golfers during each of the two final rounds is guaranteed $2,200 in appearance money.

Capstick-Riggs

Mr. and Mrs. Art Capstick

The wedding of Miss Nancy Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Riggs, 3006 Ramona Drive, and Art Capstick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Capstick, 897 Portland, Collinsville, was solemnized on June 6 at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Collinsville.

Guitarist Larry Hagley played "Somewhere," "The Wedding Song," "Prayer of St. Francis," "Hail Mary," and "Sing To The Mountains."

The Rev. Don Markovich performed a double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

For her wedding, the former Miss Riggs chose a full length white satin Victorian style gown fashioned with a high neckline, accented with Schiffl trim which was repeated on the fitted bodice.

Venise lace enhanced the bishop sleeves and cuffs.

Her full skirt and chapel train was edged with Venise lace and she wore a camelot headpiece to secure her veil of bridal illusion, also bordered with matching lace.

She held a white lace fan with a cluster of white silk roses, pink tiger lilies, stephanotis, lilies of the valley and baby's breath, attached.

Mrs. Joyce Hennrich

served as matron of honor with bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Bellue and Mrs. Gail Odum.

They were attired in identical dusty rose knit dresses designed with gathered skirt and long sleeves. Venise lace enhanced the necklines and wrists.

Each attendant wore a comb in her hair decorated with pink and burgundy rosebuds and baby's breath and they held white fans accented with matching blossoms.

Andrea Dillon and Steven Lubak, cousins of the bride, served as the flower girl and ringbearer.

She wore a silk dusty rose frock, created with long sleeves, gathered skirt which was bordered with a ruffled flounce. She also held a flower bedecked fan and wore a comb trimmed with blossoms in her hair.

John Hustava attended the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Bob Vieluf and Stan Baczewski, and the ushers were Ron and Tom Capstick, brothers of the groom.

Mary Jo and Mary Ann Welle, cousins of the bride, attended the guest book at a reception given in the Collinsville FFW Hall. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Rustio's Restaurant, in Collinsville.

Mrs. Riggs, mother of the bride, appeared in a pastel pink chiffon dress featuring a tucked bodice and long sleeves enhanced with Venise lace.

The groom's mother selected a pale blue chiffon A-line gown, complemented with a matching cape. Both mothers wore pink and white silk rosebud corsages.

A graduate of South High School the former Miss Riggs earned a degree in Psychology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is employed through the office of Manpower Development at Edwardsville Job Service as an intake officer.

The groom is working for Illinois Power Co. He was graduated from Collinsville High School in 1967 and from Missouri Southern College where he received a B.S. degree in Physical Education.

They are making their home in Collinsville.

Showing of 1934 film "Twentieth Century"

"Twentieth Century," a film produced in 1934, will be shown July 22 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The G-rated movie is scheduled in Lovejoy Library auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission is by donation.

In this film, John Barrymore stars as Oscar Jaffe, an egomaniacal Hollywood producer who trades wisecracks with Carole Lombard while on board the "Twentieth Century," a luxury train running from Chicago to New York.

Howard Hawks, of "Scarface," "Sergeant York," and "Red River" fame, directed this satirical farce, which is based on a screenplay by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur.

Program studies patient education

"Reagan Economics" with Ann Schweir, professor of economics at the University.

Both programs are scheduled at 7:30 p.m.

We will carry the same quality merchandise we have always carried and we will continue using the brands that you our customers have requested. The only difference is that we are going to Mark This Merchandise Down From 10 to 50% From The Very Day That It Arrives.

This new policy will start on Monday, July 13th with all Spring and Summer Merchandise reduced from 30 to 65% and all New Fall Merchandise reduced from 10 to 50%. The reason for this change is simple. We would rather see our customer walking around in today's fashions purchased at our store for less, than yesterday's discards purchased somewhere else.

Crisis points out need for ambulance staffing

It's a fact. Reducing the manpower in Granite City's lifesaving services can only reduce the quality of those services.

Fortunately, the budget cuts which are to begin July 15, had not yet been put into effect when three workers were severely burned on the top floor of the continuous slab caster at Granite City last Wednesday. It took every man in the city's main fire station, plus eight to 10 Granite City Steel employees to make the rescue effort work.

"Without the assistance from Granite City Steel, we couldn't have done it," Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich commented after the difficult rescue which required carrying the badly-burned men down approximately three flights of stairs while attempting to keep track of their vital signs and to give every possible life-saving treatment.

With the help of the Granite City Steel employees, the men received prompt and efficient emergency treatment. Without them, the city would not have had enough rescue workers without calling more in from the other fire stations, leaving the remainder of the city basically unprotected, and there still would not have been enough rescue workers.

The incident vividly shows that the city needs to keep its fire department at full strength. "In multiple injury situations, such as this, it is extremely difficult to be effective with the number of people we have," Smolich said. "The rescue effort. Laying off another emergency medical technician will just make matters worse at the next major emergency — and, unfortunately, we can be sure there will be more major emergencies.

The same can be said for the police and firefighters. Recently, the police arrested five alleged burglars in one night during the progress of two separate burglaries. The burglars may have escaped had there been fewer policemen on the streets, and might be free to burglarize another home or tavern tonight.

Another noteworthy thing in the case was the amount of paperwork which followed the arrests. Many hours of detective work went into preparing the cases for presentation to the state's attorney's warrant office before felony charges finally were authorized against three of the young men and another faces juvenile court action.

It is easy to say that clerks, dispatchers, secretaries, detectives and other "non-essential" persons can be cut, for a time, to save money, but without those "non-essential" people, there would have been no one to do the hours of tedious paperwork necessary to prepare cases against the alleged burglars, unless police officers were taken off the streets to do the paperwork.

We need more officers on the streets, "where the action is," not pushing pencils in the station or dispatching cars.

Consider the Program. A nearby firehouse and enough men to answer the alarm.

We urge the city council and the mayor to consider the actions reducing the number of people in the police, fire and ambulance departments. The people have paid well for good emergency services and deserve them.

Preparedness for war essential to maintain peace

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge awarded its George Washington Honor Medal for the following essay by Jorge Esparza, a 16-year-old student—General Douglas MacArthur said, "The history of failure in war can be summed up in two words: Too late."

"Too late in comprehending the deadly purpose of a potential enemy; too late in realizing the mortal danger; too late in preparedness; too late in distinguishing all possible forces for resistance; too late in standing with one's friends."

The Russian paw has grasped many parts of Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America since the end of World War II. Also, it threatens to dominate the seas.

Soviet Russia is a great power surpassed historically only by the United States. But has that been reversed? Are we now in second place, and they in first? This is the question being asked by citizens of this great nation.

Since 1959, our priorities have changed. In the 1955 fiscal year, we spent more on defense than for social needs. But by fiscal year 1978, the budget showed the reverse; we spent more for social needs than for defense.

There is no greater "social program" than the defense of the nation, its citizens and its vital interests.

Many seem to think that a strong armed force causes wars. But who would say that a well-manned, adequately-equipped and extremely well-prepared fire department causes fires?

The most important element of the armed forces is manpower, and at the present moment we have a manpower crisis. We are short of skilled and disciplined personnel in all ranks.

General David C. Jones, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, admits that "the Number One problem is people—the availability of trained people."

To attract these skilled people into the military, the government should increase pay, provide more benefits, and reinstate a new GI Bill. Moreover, the government should make, as President Carter once put it, "...a career in the military as rewarding personally for those who serve as a career in any pursuit."

Conventional and nuclear forces work hand in hand as our deterrent against war. If one is weak, it can decrease our deterrent. If both are weak, our deterrent can be disastrous.

The Soviets have a 2 to 1 favorable ratio in tactical aircraft, 9-1 in tanks, 2-1 in ships, 2-1 in submarines and 4-1 in military personnel.

One can imagine that, in the height of hostilities, the Soviets could be capable of exhausting our conventional forces in air, land, and on sea. As a result, the president could be forced to use nuclear weapons on the battleground. The effect would be disastrous.

In reference to nuclear weapons, the U.S. in the early 1980s will be vulnerable to thermonuclear attack by the Soviet Union. Such an attack could destroy 90 percent of our land-based missiles in a single blow.

We must adhere to what President John F. Kennedy said: "Only through strength can we be certain of deterring a nuclear attack. That deterrent strength, if it is to be effective and credible, must embody the most modern, most reliable and most versatile nuclear weapons our research and development can produce."

This could be achieved by going ahead with the MX missile project and the Trident missile-submarine project, by producing a new long-range bomber, and by strengthening our Navy, Air Force and ground forces.

As Congressman Robert Badham of Indiana, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said, "To strengthen our armed forces will cost. But the expense is affordable. The end result is peace, and the alternative is unthinkable."

Says Initiative plan would halt fistfights in state legislature

To the Editor:

During the recent session of the General Assembly, the fumbling and bumbling of Illinois legislators has produced a state national jigglingstock for incompetent government.

While our elected representatives were starting fistfights and auditing for Bozo's circus, important issues like tax reform, utility rate relief, and ethics reform got lost in the shuffle.

Not that legislators weren't busy. Between rounds, they found time to establish a pay raise commission (appointed by legislators) which will have the authority to give politicians big salary increases without the legislature ever having to take a vote on the issue.

Amidst all the bickering and petty selfishness in Springfield, one thing is certain — no man is fighting for the public interest.

This is why our state desperately needs a constitutional amendment for legislative initiative power.

The Illinois Initiative would permit voters to bypass a do-nothing legislature and enact laws directly by petition and binding referendum.

Right now initiative law-making works well in 22 states across the country, including Michigan, Missouri, and Ohio in the Midwest.

Illinois citizens are way ahead of politicians when it comes to demanding reform and economy in government. It's time to open the door to citizen initiative in our state to allow voters to vote on issues as well as elect legislators.

The Coalition for Political Honesty is petitioning now for a constitutional amendment to give the people of Illinois the power of initiative.

Citizens who are fed up with the monkey business in Springfield should contact us. Initiative petitions at Political Honesty, Box 708, Oak Park, IL 60303.

Governor praises O'Neal

Governor James R. Thompson issued this statement Thursday following the announcement by Lt. Governor Dave O'Neal that he will resign:

"A little over five years ago, Dave O'Neal and I became partners — he was elected as the Republican candidate for Lt. Governor and I was elected the party's choice for Governor."

Since that time, through two long and challenging campaigns, we have served as a team. He has been a partner in government and he has served the 11-and-a-half million residents of this state well.

I have sought Dave's counsel and wisdom on many issues and he always responded with sound advice that I respected.

Dave O'Neal has played a valuable role in the Thompson-O'Neal administration. He has helped spread the themes of this administration throughout the state and helped carry them out within state government.

His leadership has been valuable in the areas of corrections, in developing the markets and using for Illinois coal, in assisting thousands of senior citizens and in easing the burden of state mandated programs on local units of government.

Since the report of Dave O'Neal's Commission on State Mandated Programs, he has refused to support or sign any legislation that imposes any substantial financial burden on local government without state reimbursement.

Dave has been a loyal partner in government, an able administrator and a good friend. He has now decided to change the direction of his career. While we will miss his assistance and counsel, we wish him well.

Scroggins on bar committee

The appointment of chairmen of 30 committees and 28 sections of the Illinois State Bar Association has been announced by ISBA President Michael A. Coccia of Chicago.

Upon making the appointments, Coccia commented: "I am putting great reliance upon the people I selected to chair the various committees and sections of the State Bar Association."

The Illinois State Bar Association is a voluntary organization with a membership of 25,000 attorneys. Its primary purpose is to improve the administration of justice, by serving its members and the public.

Sections of the State Bar exist for virtually every major legal practice area ranging from administrative law to worker's compensation. Each section publishes a newsletter to keep lawyers up to date on the latest changes in the law. The sections also contribute their expertise to the legislative work of the association.

Committees are given the responsibility for specific projects such as professional ethics, trial-free press and delivery of legal services. Both the committees and sections work under the direction of the President and the governing board of the association.

Most chairmen are selected from the membership, but Coccia named one non-lawyer to chair a committee for the coming year.

The appointments include Leon Scroggins of Granite City who was named to the Unauthorized Practice of Law Committee.

COURT RULES

The Supreme Court ruled on March 26, 1962, that federal courts have the power to order the seats in a state legislature to be reapportioned.

Granite City needs $3.3 million to upgrade its combined sewers

It will cost at least $476 million for 132 Illinois communities to meet state pollution standards governing overflows from combined sanitary and storm sewers, according to a report published by the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources, the state energy agency.

The environmental benefits that would be gained, primarily improved water quality in rivers or streams near the communities, are uncertain, notes the report, Economic Impact of Combined Sewer Overflow Regulation in Illinois.

The list of Illinois communities in which some of the sewers are combined includes Granite City. The report said that 32 percent of Granite City sewers are combined and that the cost of upgrading them to meet state standards is $3.3 million.

INR has presented the report to the Illinois Pollution Control Board, which sets environmental standards in the state. The Board will conduct hearings beginning in July to receive public comments on the report. The Board has the power to modify or eliminate existing environmental regulations.

State law requires that INR evaluate the costs and benefits associated with any proposed state environmental regulations. The Institute also can conduct such studies regarding existing regulations that appear to have an adverse economic impact. This is the first such study to be completed on an existing rule.

Combined sewers carrying both sanitary wastes and stormwater are common in Illinois, particularly in those towns or parts of towns built before 1900.

They are a source of environmental concern because they are intentionally designed to overflow into rivers or streams. The overflows act as safety valves during storms, releasing storm water and sanitary wastes that otherwise might back up into basements or streets.

Illinois law requires that combined sewer contents and overflows be treated to protect water quality. To meet the standards, communities may need to install separate sanitary and storm sewers, enlarge sewage treatment facilities or construct systems to carry sewer overflows to treatment plants.

There have been numerous complaints that such projects are inordinately expensive and that the cost will reduce the amount of funds available for those pollution control efforts. State law originally set 1975 as the deadline by which most communities were to have met the standards, but delays have been allowed because of the difficulty in obtaining needed funding.

Some 1.2 million residents or 22 percent of the state's population outside Cook County are served by combined sewers, the study team found. The affected communities range in size from a few hundred people up to populations of 88,000.

It was estimated that construction costs for the affected communities would total at least $476 million, and annual operating costs would exceed $72 million.

The communities themselves would have to provide at least 25 percent of the needed funds with the state and federal governments providing the remainder. Under current environmental funding programs,

Too many protests dented trash cans

To the Editor: I have recently had a plastic trash container picked up by Milan East. The container was split by an operator as it rolled into the street and was kicked by the operator back toward the sidewalk.

The past week a metal container was tagged by the operator. Each week I bring the container in after it is emptied only to have to knock out a large dent where the container is thrown on the back of a Milan East truck. After only a few dents the metal can split open.

My understanding is you are to have containers with lids. The lids are thrown on the ground and usually roll away with the wind.

A call to Milan East tells me most of the operators do not use gloves and they have spent over $6,000.00 on claims for cut hands. I would think for sanitary reasons the operators would wear gloves.

I do not think the denting of the containers is necessary, or the loss of the lid. If others are experiencing the container denting, I would hope they would call Milan East at 451-9507 to discuss the trash pick-up.

Fine treatment at hospital here

To the Editor: This is to let the people in Granite City know that a fine hospital we have in our city.

We recently had a stay in this fine hospital. Everyone at the hospital was really nice. From the emergency room, through admitting, ICU, then to Fifth floor, Doctors Wing.

We feel that the fifth floor is the best floor in the hospital. The care we received was extremely good. Everything we asked for within reason, we received.

Dr. Lawrence Harmon, Dr. Diomedes, and all the nursing staff of 5 Doctors, especially nurses Betty Thomas, Judy Awalt and Marie Adamick were certainly nice and receive our praise.

The people in Granite City should be thankful for St. Elizabeth Medical Center. A very special thanks to everyone.

Governor comments Opposes cuts in fire and police departments

Governor James R. Thompson has hailed President Reagan's nomination of Judge Sandra Day O'Connor to the Supreme Court as "a proud moment in the history of the nation's legal system."

"I congratulate President Reagan on his choice of Judge O'Connor and I support him in this decision. I am proud that the Supreme Court has named such a qualified jurist to the Supreme Court and I trust that her appointment will be approved quickly," the Governor said.

"This is a proud moment in the history of our nation's legal system. It is an event that Americans can take great pride in."

The governor also commented President Reagan for acting swiftly on a campaign promise he made to appoint a woman to the Supreme Court. President Reagan has shown once again that he meant what he said when he campaigned for the Presidency. I support him 100 percent in this appointment.

To the Editor: As a taxpayer, I am appalled at the recent decision of our Aldermen and Women to cut our Police and Fire Departments and to get our city out of the red.

Paul Bowler has talked about our population dropping, but made no mention to the fact that the crime rate is rising. By cutting our investigation force back, it's an open invitation to the act of crime. If they don't get caught in the act of crime, they're home free, because there is no way that two or three men can possible investigate all the crime in Granite City.

If that left were mostly people who came to Granite City to work, had not bought property, never paid taxes, but lost their jobs when our industry started to decline.

It's unbelievable that they would even suggest closing a fire department Ward 6 & 7, a Ward that pays a great deal of taxes and has heavy voting power, will be without speed protection from fire and will be without ready ambulance service.

I'm sure that cuts must be made, but I'm also sure that a more careful study is in order. There's enough "dead wood" around that the alderman and women could surely come up with a better solution than this.

For instance, there are 5 people employed at the Air Pollution Control Unit. There is also a State Air Pollution Control Board, who does the same work. Couldn't we do without this duplication process?

I am definitely opposed to cutting back of our police and fire department, and I help pay those salaries.

There will be a council meeting Tuesday night. If you want the continued safety of security that the police and fire department give, I urge you to be there, or call your alderman, or lobby the board on the convey your feelings on this very important matter.

License plate renewals for many July 31

Passenger car owners with license plate registrations expiring in July have until midnight Friday, July 31, to display brown 1982 stickers in the upper right corners of their rear plates.

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said approximately 555,000 renewal applications have been mailed to registered owners who currently display green 1981 stickers expiring in July.

Applications made by mail should be in the secretary's office no later than Wednesday, July 15, to guarantee delivery by the July 31 deadline.

Stickers also may be purchased over the counter at the Secretary of State's Springfield and Chicago facilities or many financial institutions participating in the license renewal program.

Effective Saturday, Aug. 1, anyone driving a car with an expired green, July 1981, sticker may be ticketed and fined for improper registration.

If you have any questions about the Secretary of State's office, use the Secretary's toll-free telephone number 1-800-252-8960.

POINT OF VIEW

Isabel Sanford a winner

By DON FREEMAN

HOLLYWOOD — When Isabel Sanford first appeared on the "Carol Burnett Show," she approached the star of the show for advice.

"As you know, I'm from the stage," Isabel said, "and I know little of how television operates. Tell me, Carol, when you do a show like this, before a studio audience, do you wait for your laughs?"

To which Carol Burnett replied: "You sure do. But don't think too much about waiting until you hear the laughs."

Isabel Sanford, a black actress of great rich humor, got plenty of studio audience laughs, for which she waited dutifully before going on to the next line of dialogue, and now she is one of the stars of "The Jeffersons," the CBS comedy hit.

She knew early that she would venture into show business.

"At 9, just a wee bit of a girl, I had this desire to perform, but my mother was very religious and she didn't like it much. She didn't approve of show business, period. So, even while I was growing up, I didn't give it any long-range thought. I just didn't let it fill my brain. They tried to discourage me but if you don't want to be discouraged, you don't have to be."

"Even at P.S. 81, in New York City, the teacher knew I had talent and she sent a note home to my mother, which said: 'Isabel has a natural talent.' But my mother said: 'Nay, nay, nay.' And I kept pouting and whining."

"And all the time," she said, "I was a painfully shy person. Only on the stage did I move out and expand. And then I had this booming loud voice, which meant that being a basso I once played a man in a Chinese opera."

In time, she worked on the New York stage. She was in a play once with Tallulah Bankhead, also known for her thunderous voice.

"Tallulah — oh, that Tallulah! — told my sister, Emma, Thank God that Isabel didn't have any offstage lines otherwise she'd have gotten all the applause."

By 1965, Isabel Sanford was winning critical acclaim on Broadway in James Baldwin's "The Amen Corner." This led to her role of the acerbic maid to Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn in the movie "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

"One day, on the set," she recalls, "Hepburn said to me, 'Isable, Spencer thinks you are just mah-velous!' I said thank you. Well, at that time, I was going to work at the movie studio by bus. And I remember they had to gray up my hair for the picture to look older. And I never had time to wash the gray out."

"Well, one day I'm going to the studio on the bus and it's quite crowded and I'm holding on to the strap, not minding it at all because that's what you're supposed to do. A man gets up and offers this poor gray-haired lady — meaning me — a seat. Now it's on the set and we're all sitting around and I tell this story. I expected a laugh at the end but Katharine Hepburn is sitting there with a look of astonishment."

"And she said, 'Isabel has to take a bus to work!' She sounded flabbergasted. I said, 'Kate, I don't drive and I don't have a car.' But she just shook her head at the incredibility of it all. She got up and rushed over to Spencer Tracy. She cried, 'Spencer! Spencer! Isabel takes a bus to work. Spencer! Do something!'"

"So now Spencer Tracy comes over and he says to me, 'Isabel, I understand you take a bus to work.' I said yes, Spencer, I do, and I really don't mind — but he interrupts me with 'Why don't you take a cab?'"

"And now I stood up to my full height and I said, 'Spencer, I've been known to be quite tight. This is the first time I've made this much money and I am not going to blow it on a taxicab!'"

"Spencer was silent for a moment. 'Well,' he said, 'I'm going to speak to management about it. And he did because later that day I was told to forget about the bus travel and take a cab from my home, which was five miles from the studio, pay for it, get a receipt and I would be reimbursed.'"

I asked her: "How much was the fare?"

Isabel Sanford said: "It was $5.50 each way — with what you would call a generous tip."

Dionne Warwick thought Red Cross was only about hurricanes.

"True. I always thought of Red Cross as a kind of rescue force in times of disaster and little more."

"Then I learned that in towns and cities across America, Red Cross gives the kind of help to individuals that you rarely hear about, because it doesn't make headlines in the newspaper."

"Red Cross, for instance, helps elderly people get to doc-

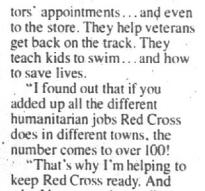

The next big chapter unfolded with "All in the Family" and now Isabel is saying: "When 'All in the Family' started, I missed the first episode somehow but I saw the promotions on the air. It looked like a rotten show. But I watched it anyway and then I hear Archie Bunker using words like 'jungle bunnies,' referring to blacks. I called a friend on the phone. 'Juanita, you turn to Channel 2, you won't believe what I just heard.' And we fell down laughing because Archie Bunker, this character, is so ridiculous, bigot that he is."

"Next thing I know, my agent called me about being interviewed for 'All in the Family.' What do they want with me? Well, it turns out they want to establish the character of Lionel as moving in the neighborhood and they need a black actress as Lionel's aunt. All right. I auditioned. Norman Lear, the producer, was there and he didn't say anything afterward. I figured, that's it, forget it. But the next day my agent calls and I've got the job — for one episode."

"Well, they like me so much that the next season I was promoted to Lionel's mother. And from that they spun off 'The Jeffersons' and now we're in our eighth season, which is incredible the way time moves on."

"And now I'm famous, don't you know. Sometimes I'll pass a group of people and I'll hear them whisper if that isn't the woman in 'Good Times?' I'll turn around and tell them no, it's not 'Good Times,' it's 'The Jeffersons.' That shocks them. And I love it."

A Public Service of The Newspaper & The Advertising Council

"I found out that if you added up all the different humanitarian jobs Red Cross does in different towns, the number comes to over 100!"

"That's why I'm helping to keep Red Cross ready. And why I hope you do, too."

Keep Red Cross ready.

HOLLYWOOD STRIP

Another mischievous kid turns comic

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — Now on the verge of national recognition by all-age groups, MELANIE CHARTOFF knows it is a cliché to say she wants to be a movie star, but says it anyway.

Perhaps the most known member of the cast of ABC's "Fridays," Melanie is a little surprised that she's being called the "sex symbol" of the late-night series, but shrugs, "I guess I've always known I was a sexual person."

The road to being funny for the West Haven, Conn. native began as it did for all too many comics and clowns — by being a mischievous child. Being funny, that is wisecracking, was Melanie's way of getting her father to laugh so he wouldn't punish her.

"I was in trouble a lot," she admits today. "I had a big mouth."

"Odd thing is that I don't feel I'm as funny today as I was then, although I'm being paid for it. I guess as a person I've gotten less defensive."

Whether the "Friday's" cast can duplicate the success of the Not Ready For Prime Time Players from "Saturday Night Live" remains to be seen, but Melanie is out to prove her range as a performer. She'll open this summer in "A Couple of White Chicks Sitting Around Talking," a showcase she is producing, which also stars her pal, BETTY BUCKLEY, from "Eight Is Enough."

Some family notes: Despite his well-publicized marital problems during the last year, MICHAEL LANDON was chosen 1981 West Coast Father of the Year for Entertainment by the National Father's Day Council. Just goes to prove, the father who gets his kids into his TV commercials can't be all bad.

No marital squabbles exist for JAMES NOBLE, the governor on "Benson," who just celebrated 25 years of wedded bliss with actress Carolyn Coates. Since he's a political figure on television, Noble was honored by telegrams from real elected officials, among them MAYOR TOM BRADLEY of Los Angeles, WILLIAM P. CLEMENTS JR., governor of Texas and President RONALD REAGAN.

NANCY McKEON, who appears regularly on NBC's "Facts of Life," will guest star in an episode of "Alice" on CBS, playing alongside her brother, PHILIP, who is Tommy on the show. It will be the first time the siblings have acted together on the home screen.

For those of you who remember "The Mothers-in-Law," an NBC series which ran for two years in the mid-'60s, your eyes will not be deceiving you when you tune in "Dallas" this fall and see HERBET RUDLEY portraying J.R.'s lawyer and recognize him as Herb Hubbard from the old sitcom. Rudley, who has been concentrating on his writing for some time, will have a recurring role on the CBS hit series.

For the last few years MEREDITH MACRAE has been hosting a local Los Angeles talk show, but she's going national again having just signed a three-year pact with Showtime, the pay-TV service, to do celebrity interviews.

And, incidentally, mama SHEILA is still very much in evidence on the Hollywood scene. She's formed a production company and is readying projects with herself as producer. Sheila is also sidelining as personal manager for Meredith's sister, HEATHER.

Meanwhile, papa GORDON MACRAE is living in Lincoln, Neb., with his second wife and a teen-age son. Gordon may have made all those musicals in the 1950s, but the MacRae clan says he never really liked Hollywood. He much prefers to live in Nebraska and tour the country making concert appearances.

CITIZENS ACT

Congress adopted the Naturalization Act on March 26, 1790, which set a residence requirement for two years for prospective citizens.
